

May 1961

ALL GROUPS
CONCLUSION FROM PRE-EASTER READINGS ON SIX TRIADS

Though it is valuable to train the logical mind to grasp this theoretical basis from which the classification of all human actions can proceed, yet the logical mind alone will take us no further. This idea only becomes practical when we can see clearly the real nature of some action before we embark on it; that would be School work. The theory must be remembered while we pursue the consciousness which will enable us to put it into practice. To see requires the improvement of all our functions, instinctive perception, control of movement, intellectual discrimination, the awakening of conscience and finally the ability to be conscious in the higher centres. Only then will we see our own actions and all human activity stretched before us, and see this as part of the whole scheme of six triads or combination of forces on every level in the universe.

So, for the moment, let us leave this subject and examine a fundamental change in our outlook which will be required in order to achieve such a state of Cosmic Consciousness.

* * *

